That's how the old saying has it. Kids have that in common with cats-CURIOSITY. Medicines, both prescribed and over-the-counter, are generally not for children. They should be kept out of reach so should be kept out of reach so as not to tempt inquiring fingers. Admonishions sometimes create curiosity where none existed, so just plain out of sight and reach protects innocent lives.

Checking

There are many reasons why a checking account is the modern way to handle money. For instance, did you know that a check enables you to make a purchase on a moments notice, and with a built-in receipt?

Paying by check also enables you to do business easily by mail, and eliminates the dangers of carrying cash. And it furnishes you with a permanent record of expenses for tax purposes.

A checking account is not only good money management, but easy to open. too. Our people will be happy to talk it over with you. Stop in soon.

Would it look bad to build in a china cabinet arrangement if the cabinets were not symmetrical pattern.
Alertainly not. You should be able to create an attractive wall without a symmetrical pattern.
Treat the doors of the cabinets in the same design. If you have two on one side of the radiator and one on the other, I don't think it would bot unpleasant anclose your radiator in one cabinet, using mesh wire for the doors instead of solid wood. Line the sides and top of the cabinets' interior with sheet sabestos for fire pre-caution and leave plenty of space over the radiator. In fact, build one portion of the cabinet lighter if necessary.

W-2 forms by Tuesday

Employers have until Tuesday, Jan. 31, to provide their employees with completed W-2-Forms for 1977, Ira S. Loeb, Internal Revenue Service district director for Central and Southern Illinois, noted today.

Southern Illinois, noted today. Unless the forms are received by that date, employees will have to wait to file their taxreturns, possibly missing out on the quick refunds available to early filers. If a W-2 is not received by Jan. 31, an employee should contact the employer concerned, Loeb advised.

If the W-2 is not issued by Feb. 15, the employee should then contact an IRS office, he added.

Employees who do not receive all of their W-2's — listing 1977 income — in time to file should report all of their income and attach a statement explaining tax computations for which W-2's are missing.

Additional information on proper handling of W-2 Forms is available in the IRS Publication 15, "Circular E - Employer's Tax Guide," obtained from IRS district offices.

Tom Hennrich scored next on two charity losses as he was couled, while shooting, by Troy Wassel to the control of the start of the score was again tied, this time at 4-all. Then again at 8-all, courtesy of Hennrich.

Hennrich went six-for-six from the free throw line and scored 'two from the field, totaling 12 points.

Clement won in 1:55 and won 5-0 and 12-0.

167—Rich James won in 1:32, by forfeit and by 5-3, 185—Bart Gardner won on two forfeits and won 5-0.

Heavyweight Rich Dimock won in 5:49 and 1:37 and won by a forfeit. Hennrich put in one from 30 feet and Tom Mahl brought home the other six — two field goals from outside of 20 feet and two free throws.

Lee Heubner tallied a 25-foot jumper to tie the score at 28. Then, with three seconds before the halftime intermission, Hennrich tied the score at 33 with a 30-foot jumper. Mahl committed the first mistake of the second half, but he made up for it by stealing a Red Bird pass and driving within 20 feet to score.

After going into the third quarter even, the Warriors ame out on top by three points, Hennrich stole a Red Bird pass early in the fourth quarter and went in for a layup, but the ball rolled out.

Alton reclaimed the lead, thanks to the hands of their giant, Goins. The lead changed twice more, with Alton getting the final advantage.

The Warriors were within two points with 25 seconds left in the Drive for open primary referendum is gaining attention

Prive for open primary referen

Press-Record Springfield Bureau —
Illinois could make history this year. It could become the largest state, oppulation-wise to adopt an open primary. Such a switch from the traditional primary concept by a state as politically important as Illinois could have a major impact across the American political spectrum.

The odds are considerably less than even that Illinois will join 10 other less-populated states in switching to an open primary. But the fact that the present primary system is likely to be challenged in a state so diverse and politically active as is certain to duract antional attention.

Spearheading the drive for an open primary—certainly the most serious one of its kind in Illinois history — is the Illinois Colition For Political Honesty, which requently prods the legislature on In 1976 the Coalition gathered 651, 188.

which frequently prods the legislature on sensitive issues.

In 1976 the Coalition gathered 635,158 signatures in an effort to put ethics proposals on the ballot. Although the courts eventually ruled against their submission on the fall ballot, the pressure of public opinion forced legislators to end the practice of paying themselves in advance.

the practice of paying themselves in advance.

However, the Coalition could have trouble this year in coming up with the 625,000 signatures needed by Aug. 21 in order to put the open primary proposal on the November ballot.

Patrick Quinn of Oak Park, secretary-treasurer for the Coalition, says more than 100,000 signatures have so far been obtained. He adds that the crucial time is between now and the March 21 primary.

After that, the various candidates for the legislature and other offices will be free of pressure to give even lip service to the proposals. Individual voters themselves may lose interest in the issue once another primary is over.

may lose interest in the issue once another primary is over.

Quirn writes that Gov. James R. Thompson "has signed our petition but has not taken a public position on the open primary... I have discussed it with Mike Bakalis (Democratic candidate for governor) and he also has not arrived at a position. We hope our petition campaign will get both candidates off the fence."

A number of public opinion surveys in recent years have shown that individual voters would like an opportunity to vote in the primary without disclosing their party affiliation.

But the Coalition people point out that back in 1904, citizens used petition and referendum to force adoption of the current basic primary process in Illinois. Previous to that, major state candidates were chosen through party nominating conventions. The primary replaced conventions.

conventions. The primary replaced conventions.

During the past 25 years, there have been numerous attempts by legislators, both Republicans and Democrats, to pass an open primary bill. But so strong has an open primary bill. But so strong has expended to the political establishment resistance of the political establishment and reached the floor of House or Senate.

In the past few years the idea of an open primary has begun attracting increasing interest. This is due in some measure to the steady decline in voter participation in the primaries.

steady decline in voter participation in the primaries.

The Coalition points to the 1974 primary election, which included a referendum proposition on mass transit in the six-country Region Transit Authority of the Chicago Metropolitan area. Chicago Metropolitan area to the TAS-553 voters who participated in the RTA-5553 voter who participated in the RTA-650 primary.

The decline of patronage as a basic prop of political organization has been another factor undermining the basic strength of the present primary system. The growing number of independent voters, who refuse to affiliate with either party, is unquestionably another.

Still, of the big states, not only Illinois, but such giants as New York, Pennsylvania and California continue to shy away from open primaries.

The most heavily populated state to have an open primary is Michigan. Wisconsin, long known as one of the most liberal of the states, pioneered the open iberal of the states, pioneered the open primary.

Other states which have it are Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Alaska and Washington, all primarily of the North and West.

The South, still pretty much the one-party preserve of the Democrats, has never paid much attention to the open primary. The sheer power of the Chicago Democratic organization, certain to light to the political death against an open primary, would be expected to be enough to assure its defeat.

Yet nobody knows whether the views so often expressed by those polled that they would prefer an open primary could be translated into votes on election day.

The primary referendum issue will add significantly to the interest in Illinois political year. The final result could have a producing effect on the future course of politics in this state.

Madison student newspaper back

After an absence of three years, the Madison High School Trojan Flashes newspaper is publishing again, with J. Alan Gardner as the faculty adviser. Student interest in learning more about journalism is cited as the major reason for the paper being reactivated. All the work is done on the students "I'l takes about 40 hours work to produce one issue and the students do just about everything," Gardner said.

"It is a lot of work, because I am training a whole new crew, as only the seniors have seen a school paper here. But I think It's worth it," Gardner said.

Historic buildings' preservation urged

(Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission) Nearly every community in Southwestern Illinois has a number of old buildings of historic value. Unfortunately, since historic significance comes with age it

Unfortunately, since historic significance comes with age, it is not surprising to find that all too many of these buildings have deteriorated badly and are obsolete, while others have already met their demise through decay and demolition. Since such buildings cannot be recreated, it would seem all the more important to preserve those that remain.

the more important to preserve those that remain.

Far too often, historic preservation efforts within a community are crisis-oriented. When an old building or When an old building or the hearts of some local citizens is about to be demolished, they react and a battle generally ensues.

K MART'S ADVERTISED MERCHANDISE POLICY

Pharmacy Specials the Savings are on us!

Savings and super-savings on prescriptions at your K mart Pharmacy and that's just the beginning . . . at K mart, the savings store, your prescriptions will be compounded promptly by our licensed pharmacist. And you can also shop for big savings on other medicines, vitamins, and all your family needs. With no parking hassle! Come in today and check our low, low prices and outstanding service! Shop at K mart.

IT'S EASY TO TRANSFER YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS TO A K mart PHARMACY

You merely bring in your old label or bottle to K mart Pharmacy. Our licensed pharmacist will take it from there and do all necessary telephoning to your doctor.

IT'S AS SIMPLE AS THAT!

You also may phone the number of your prescription to K mart Pharmacy - (phone numbers listed below) ... and again our K mart pharmacist will handle all the necessary details for you. Please try to call us during your doctor's office hours if you need medication in a hurry. Certain prescriptions require a new, written prescription each time. Our Pharmacist can determine this when he contacts your physician.
